

Evan Legate has served as the Board Chair of the Epilepsy Association of Calgary since June 2019. He currently works as a Senior Advisor for Longview Communications & Public Affairs, providing support to clients in the areas of government relations, regulatory affairs, issues management and stakeholder relations. Over the last decade, Evan has worked in a number of senior roles across Alberta provincial politics and managed provincial and municipal political campaigns. Evan was diagnosed with epilepsy in 2015 and joined the Board in 2018 to ensure that all Calgarians impacted by epilepsy have access to necessary social service supports. He has a Bachelor of Arts in Political Science from the University of Calgary and has completed an additional year of graduate level coursework.
